Overview of North Carolina Election Night Results

Election Night Reporting (ENR) is an online web-based tool used to display election results.. The Web interface provides visitors with both text and graphical views of election results for statewide and county contests. Users are presented with a breakdown of votes received for a candidate by contest and totals by vote type. Maps are used to illustrate the counties or precincts reporting, voter turnout, and results by county or precinct. A reporting area allows interactive report creation and the ability to download detailed reports from any computer connected to the Internet.

How do I access Election Night Results?

Results can be accessed at the NC State Board of Elections Web site <http://www.sboe.state.nc.us/>. Click on Election Results.

When and how often will the results be updated?

Once the precinct polling locations have closed and all eligible voters processed, results are delivered to the county board offices. The county boards then upload unofficial precinct results to ENR. The state aggregates results, and then begins reporting results to the public via the ENR tool. Updates occur throughout the night until all counties have reported all unofficial totals.

How do I navigate Election Night Results?

The following pages will step you through how to navigate through ENR and the various options available to users.

We will review the following areas:

- Home Page
- Synopsis Area
- Summary Tab
- Precincts Reporting Tab
- Voter Turnout Tab
- Reports Tab
- Viewing County Results

When you initially access ENR, you will see a page that resembles the following. This is the ENR home page. From the ENR home page, you can access state and county results. This guide demonstrates navigating state results. Navigating the county results uses similar processes, and the most notable difference is that state results are reported by county and the county results are reported by precincts within each county.
