Chairman Adams stated the Board of Commissioners will together, without doubt, make the best decisions for the community.

Chairman Adams stated the Board implemented a new Misdemeanor Diversion Program for youth and shall continue efforts to keep individuals out of the criminal justice system. Chairman Adams stated Cumberland County has demonstrated a strong commitment to diverting individuals with mental illness from the Detention Center to treatments through a range of initiatives to include specialty courts, a Crisis Intervention Team and a Structured Post-Booking Diversion program.

Chairman Adams stated much work remains to be done; last year the Board of Commissioners passed a resolution supporting the Stepping-Up initiative which is a campaign sponsored by the National Association of Counties (NACo) and others that is designed to keep individuals with mental illness out of jails throughout the U. S. Chairman Adams stated Cumberland County has formed a Stepping-Up Taskforce and in the coming months will explore avenues to decrease the number of persons with mental illness in the County's Detention Center. Chairman Adams stated he is looking forward to serving as chairman of the local taskforce and participating in the statewide Stepping-Up conference planned for May in Raleigh. Chairman Adams stated this is a lot to accomplish but he knows the Board of Commissioners and County staff will be successful in doing so.

Chairman Adams referenced a series of articles written about poverty in the community and stated his challenge to the Board and this community is to discuss and bring action to the issue of poverty because poverty involves everyone's lives. Chairman Adams stated it seeps into schools where children are unable to learn to their full potential; it seeps into the Department of Social Services with 800 to 1,000 children in foster care; it seeps into the Health Department with high rates of child death and child abuse, STDs, mental health and health issues; it seeps into the jails where huge numbers continue to be seen; and it seeps into the community with homelessness. Chairman Adams stated if we allow it to continue to seep, it will seep into our very souls. Chairman Adams stated the time is now; this has to stop. Chairman Adams stated this issue must be addressed head-on in the next year; we cannot and will not be afraid to be a great community.

Chairman Adams stated as the issue of poverty is discussed, the issue of the murder rate in our community must also be addressed. Chairman Adams stated 87 individuals sit in the County jail today charged with murder and a large number of those are black men killing black men. Chairman Adams stated we cannot put our heads in the sand and act like this is not a problem, and we must look beyond sex, race, political parties, poor, rich, young or old because this is our community and our home. Chairman Adams stated we will demand more, we will have great expectations, we will support a taskforce to address these issues and seek and find the answers as a community. Chairman Adams stated the solution will not occur during his time as chairman and will take a long time to accomplish. Chairman Adams extended an invitation to take a risk, join the taskforce and shift the atmosphere of Cumberland County.
